

BONDS

What is a bond originator?

A bond originator is a specialist who assists homebuyers in securing home loans by negotiating with multiple banks to find the best possible interest rate and terms. They streamline the application process, handle paperwork, and provide expert guidance, ensuring buyers get the most suitable financing options without additional costs.

Why use Apollo Auctions Bonds?

- Fast and easy in-house property finance
- Hassle-free and a delightful experience
- Excellent relationship with major banks
- Ability to expedite the application, approval and registration process
- Keep our clients informed in the entire process
- Over 30 years of experience within the banking, home loan and property market industry
- We are serious about service

